

AND IN CLOSING

We've pretty much come to the end of Paul's letter to the church in Rome. The teaching has been given, the application has been made and the benediction has been pronounced. It's time to wind up. What is left is mostly personal stuff: greetings and Paul's future travel plans. But this is the Bible and every verse matters.

One thing the remaining verses will do is give us a glimpse into Paul's own heart. We'll see something the kind of the man and how he thought about himself and his role and the people he ministered to. In this study we will look at Romans 15:14 – 21.

- ◆ Clearly Paul holds the believers in Rome in high regard (verse 14). If they are so knowledgeable why has he written to them the way he has? Paul gives two reasons. What are they (verse 15)?

- ◆ How does Paul describe his job and what is his goal in it (verse 16)?

- ◆ What is it that Paul is careful to emphasise about his work in verses 17 and 18?
